Please join us to hear:

Paul Konrad

Weather Forecaster, WGN Morning News

"What happens if you totally screw up, fail and become a total loser? Is there any hope? I will speak on my personal journey that has taken me from complete failure...to becoming the international sex symbol that I am today." (Paul Konrad)

Seven-time Emmy Award Winner Paul Konrad is the morning weatherman for Chicago's top rated WGN Morning News. In a humorous look at his own failures and successes, Paul Konrad will keep you laughing and at times maybe crying at the realities of life. Paul will share his own journey and how his spiritual life has played an integral role in the process.

Paul Konrad's forecasts are seen by hundreds of thousands of viewers every morning. Prior to joining WGN-TV in 1996, Paul was with the ABC News affiliate in Tampa, Florida. He also worked for CLTV from 1992–1994 and worked in Montgomery, Alabama for the CBS affiliate (WAKA-TV). A Chicago native, Paul grew up in Naperville, Illinois. He received his undergraduate degree from DePaul University's Goodman School of Drama. He then went on to complete his masters in Speech, Radio, Television, and Film from Northwestern University. He also studied meteorology at Mississippi State University.

Paul and his wife Kirsten have three young children and live in the West Loop of Chicago.
